

THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG

FACULTY OF ARTS

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

The Criminal Justice program focuses on the study of social and government responses to crime. This includes a study of law making and lawbreaking and transgression, use of state power, including different dimensions of the police, courts, and corrections. The program explores issues of social justice, surveillance, law, socio-legal connections, offending, victims, and policy and practices

SAMPLE COURSES

Introduction to Criminal Justice is a first-year course that surveys the criminal justice system past and present, focusing on three systems – police, prosecution, corrections, and examines important concepts and debates about criminal justice.

Research Methods in Criminal Justice is a second-year course that explores the principles, data sources, and research methods appropriate for criminal justice research.

Criminal Law is a second-year course that examines the nature, purpose, scope, sources, and basic principles of criminal law.

Experiential Learning: Students can apply for field placement and field practicum courses after they have completed the required courses. Students are placed in a criminal justice, human service, or community service agency by the program coordinator.
